

FOR the Entertainment of Gentlemen, and Benefit of Commerce, and Dispatch of Business, a Coffee-house is this Day opened in King Street, where News-Papers upon the Continent are regularly taken in, and printed, English Prints, and the Magazines are ordered. Gentlemen who are pleased to resort thither, may at any Time of the Day, in the Manner of those in London, have Tea, Coffee or Chocolate, and constant Attendance given by a most humble Servant, to Boston, December 8, 1755. JOHN W. MASTERS, BARRISTER
